

Hitler's Chalet Mass Of Ruins

Kilgallen Makes Visit To Berchtesgaden Retreat
Of Former Fuehrer

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

INSIDE CONQUERED GERMANY, June 15.—Hitler's chalet at Berchtesgaden, built on the side of a mountain, is today a mass of ruins as a result of Allied bombing and German prisoners of war are kept busy cleaning up the rubble around it.

Other buildings in this elaborate Nazi kingdom in miniature, including Hermann Goering's home and a large SS barracks, have been wrecked. About the only building not hit was Hitler's "Eagle's Nest" atop a 6,000-foot mountain—high above his chalet.

Hitler's home (The Chalet) where he used to entertain important personages before "talking" to them up in the nest was a solid square stone house with one immense living room 150 feet by 45 feet. Bombs have broken the single immense glass window of this room and, no longer, will Nazi big shots look down upon the scenic grandeur in the valley below. For the place is a shambles.

Hotel Little Damaged
The near-by Plattenhof hotel, which also used to be inhabited by big wigs Nazis, suffered comparatively little damage and is now occupied by an American parachute division as a rest home.

Berchtesgaden is really a fabulous place that will be visited by thousands upon thousands of people from all over the world after conditions are restored to normal. In the pretty little town itself are several hotels, also the Berchtesgaden Hof, where Chamberlain stayed when he came to see Hitler, and where some time ago the Nazi General Albert Kesselring and other German officers were held for a time as prisoners of war.

TOO YOUNG
COOS BAY, Ore.—(INS)—The army may like youth, but not beyond a certain point. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ireland of Coos Bay were informed that their son, Lt. Col. Loren Ireland, was refused a full colonel's rank solely because of his youth. The younger Ireland, who is 29, has been awarded the Legion of Merit for setting up eighth air force headquarters in Brazil.

BRITISH ANNOUNCE VON RIBBENTROP IS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

In the manner that Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler took his own life was attached to Ribbentrop's body. So cleverly was it concealed, however, that the lethal poison was not discovered immediately. When found by Lieut. Adam, Ribbentrop was told to dress. He then was taken to the allied military office in Hamburg and subjected to an immediate medical examination. In the course of the examination Ribbentrop himself produced the hidden tin of poison.

Three Addressed Letters
Three letters addressed to British government and military leaders were found in Ribbentrop's clothing. One apparently intended for Prime Minister Winston Churchill. Another letter was for Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the third for Field Marshal Montgomery. Contents of the letters were not made known.

After he had been brought to headquarters Ribbentrop's identity was confirmed by a sister, previously taken into custody, and a wine merchant with whom the Nazi foreign minister had sought refuge. The sister threw her arms around Ribbentrop's neck and burst into tears. Ribbentrop himself then broke down and cried.

Ribbentrop was revealed to have arrived in Hamburg on April 20 after having been refused a place of hiding by the wine merchant whom he had known for 25 years.

Was Hiding Out
In his attempt to escape apprehension by the allies Ribbentrop took up lodgings in a private apartment house under the name of "Reise".

Ribbentrop told British intelligence officers that he "wanted to stay in Hamburg until British opinion had quieted down." Then, he added, he intended to give himself up to "get a fair trial."

Headquarters disclosed that when Lieut. Adam accompanied by two sergeants of field security police, arrested Ribbentrop he immediately admitted his identity.

The capture of Ribbentrop on Rudolph, by American forces who discovered him in a prisoner of war cage, was announced earlier this week.

THREE ASSESSORS RESIGN POSTS

is complex, which will take too much time and which cannot be done in the time set out, which is August 31. It isn't the fault of the act of the general assembly it is the fault of the forms set up by the chief assessor.

"Resignations Accepted"
"The resignations are accepted," said the board of county commissioners. "We cannot stop anybody from resigning if they wish and we will fill the places by appointment. We told the assessors if they needed help to get the assessments made we would furnish that help."

"The forms are more detailed than they have been," said Chief Assessor John C. Patton. "The real difficulty is that the assessors will have to put some work in on them the first year. We have had difficulty with some of the assessors who have resigned and this will remove the difficulty. Other assessors are working out their assessments on the sheets as provided and we believe when the job is done the county will have an intelligent assessment of all properties."

undergoing agonizing punishment as a hunted man rather than the ruler of millions.

In a jubilant mood, Gen. Eisenhower reviewed the European war and answered scores of questions on many subjects.

Nazis Knew Jig Was Up
He said the German high command knew the jig was up for them on the third day of Field Marshal Karl von Rundstedt's ill-fated offensive which the Nazis launched last Dec. 16. Rundstedt knew that day he could not get what he was after—to reach Liege, allied supply base in Belgium, and go on to Antwerp. At the end of the third day, the general said, Rundstedt still hoped he might get Liege and cause the Americans considerable embarrassment and loss of time.

When the smashing of the Ardennes offensive was followed by an encirclement drive on the Saar, the Germans knew they could not even fight a defensive war, he continued.

Gen. Eisenhower said he had been trying to find out the reason why the German high command prolonged the agony after that. He believed it was Hitler's influence with the former Reichsfuehrer determined to carry on to the bitter end and hoping he still might win some compromise.

SECURITY CHARTER MAY BE COMPLETE IN ANOTHER WEEK

with Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin. There was little general belief in San Francisco, however, that the senate would approve the charter by the July 15 date which Mr. Truman is said to have set as his goal.

Whatever the timing of senate consideration, it was understood that Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R-Mich., is prepared to join his fellow delegate, Sen. Tom Connally, D-Texas, in leading the fight for ratification of the charter.

Sees Receptive Senate
Vandenberg made it clear that he would support the charter when he said:

"I got much more out of this charter than I came out here to get. I think that delegate Vandenberg is in complete harmony with the charter and sees no reason to 'club' the upper branch into accepting it."

He added that he believed the senate will be "receptive" to the peace charter and sees no reason to "club" the upper branch into accepting it.

Half a dozen problems remained to be settled in committees before the security conference, now in its eighth week, can count definitely on the questions of future amendment of the charter, related to the Big Five veto power—the time for calling a future "revisionary" conference, withdrawal and expulsion of charter violators, and "transitional arrangements."

FLAMING BOMBS POUR DOWN UPON JAPS ON OKINAWA

smashing thrust in the center, compressed the remaining Japanese into an area of less than 14 square miles.

Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz also announced in today's communique that elements of Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger's Third Amphibious Corps "Marines" landed unopposed on tiny Senjika Island in the Okinawa area.

Five Jap naval guns were captured intact by the Marines. The enemy gun battery had been used against First Division Marines on Oroku peninsula, where at least 3,500 Japanese perished in nine days of the fiercest fighting of the entire Okinawa campaign.

Meanwhile, Tokyo acknowledged that the situation on Okinawa was "truly desperate," said Premier Suzuki sought to soften the final bad news for Japan's home front by saying fall of the island would not determine the "outcome of this war."

Okunawa-based Liberators and Marine Corsairs of the Tactical Air Force continued operations against Japan and other islands in the Ryukyus.

GUAM, June 15.—(INS)—Japanese forces, estimated at no more than 10,000 strong, were threatened with imminent encirclement by U. S. Tenth Army forces on Southern Okinawa today.

The enemy's last-ditch defense line, burned out by a gigantic fire bath administered by 64 Marine Corsair planes, was rapidly growing untenable under relentless American ground thrusts.

Battle front estimates placed the decimated Jap forces at no more than 10,000 men. Most of them were dug in in caves and trenches atop the plateau of Yaeju-Dake escarpment.

U. S. Naval Task Force Moves In Kurile Waters

By WILLIAM H. BUNTIN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH U. S. NORTH PACIFIC FLEET OFF THE KURILES, June 12.—(Delayed)—A United States naval task force boldly steamed into Kurile waters today for the second successive strike at Matsua Island, 450 miles northwest of the Jap home island of Hokkaido.

The attacks were the first daylight bombardments of Matsua. Units of Rear Admiral John Brown's fast task force hurled salvo after salvo into airstrips, hangars, barracks, storage dumps, radio installations and battlement cliffs—changing the beach area at the southern tip, yesterday and today.

It was unobserved yesterday because of a heavy fog. Today's action was observed by dense dust clouds thrown up by explosions.

Japanese shore batteries replied with meager ineffectual fire.

Sweep Along Coast
The American warships swept along the eastern coast of the island under cover of the fog for their first daylight smash. All units unleashed terrific bombardments.

After leaving the scene yesterday, the force made sweeps across enemy shipping lanes and then sped back to Matsua for a second strike.

While all hands, some battered by frigid winds and icy seas, stood at battle stations the warship cut sharply in toward shore. Jap installations took such a battering that 4,800-foot Mount Fuyo appeared to be erupting at its base.

Firing runs close to shore were made at a crawling pace several thousand shells were hurled at the target area.

Expected Japanese aerial opposition failed to put in an appearance and the only Jap surface ship seen was a freighter which was sunk last year in Matsua harbor.

The entire personnel was congratulated by Admiral Brown on a workmanlike job well done. The admiral expressed the hope that the future of the Kuriles will be more obnoxious and supply some floating targets.

U. S. Troops Are To Be Withdrawn From Soviet German Area

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(INS)—Acting Secretary of State Grew declared today that American troops will be withdrawn June 21 from areas of Germany falling within the Soviet zone of occupation.

Grew added that the precise boundaries of occupation zones have not been completely settled. He said he hoped they would be settled soon.

It is generally understood that agreement has been reached on the boundaries between the Soviet zone of Germany and the American and British zones as they touch the Soviet zone.

The disagreement lies with the French zone as it touches the American and British zones.

Withdrawal of American troops from the Soviet zone of Germany has been requested by Moscow but was delayed pending the settlement of other problems in Europe.

Gen. MacArthur Praises Borneo Invasion Move

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15 (INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur paid high tribute Thursday to the Allied troops and officers for a "brilliant" invasion operation in North Borneo.

MacArthur, NBC was correspondent in a broadcast from the front, said that MacArthur after a tour of inspection of the front lines, asked both men and officers to "Accept the pride and gratification I feel in such a splendid performance."

MacArthur also revealed that MacArthur had paid a visit to the Sultan of Joho Island in the Philippines. It was the first such meeting between the sultan and a senior American commander since General Pershing toured the island.

Multi-Billion Loan To Russia Being Studied

WASHINGTON, June 15 (INS)—Government officials revealed today plans are being studied for a multi-billion dollar loan to Russia. The figure of six billions is generally mentioned. This was the amount requested from Moscow under lend-lease last year. But Washington officials turned down that proposal on the ground that it involved postwar plans not properly within the range of lend-lease. The discussion concerns two alternative proposals for providing the same sum—expanding the economic powers of the Export-Import Bank or special legislation for a Soviet loan comparable to the legislation for the Chinese loan of 30 million dollars.

Strouss-Hirshberg Employees Observe 70th Anniversary

Banquet-Program At The Castle-
For Employees Of Strouss-
Hirshberg Company

In celebration of the 70th anniversary of Strouss-Hirshberg Co. of New Castle, their managers, John O. Huston, and employees, together with guests from Youngstown, numbering 125, enjoyed a banquet served in The Castle on Thursday evening.

Amusements were the first feature of the evening, and the flag salute, given by John O. Huston, opened the program.

At a series of tables, colorfully appointed in the "Flag Day" motif, guests enjoyed the buffet. At each place, saluted the guests. Floral arrangements with red, white and blue colors, predominating, formed the centerpiece.

Included in the group attending were C. J. Strouss, A. W. Eisen and J. S. Meyer, all of Youngstown. Manager Huston, who acted as toastmaster for the evening, presided in the role of host. He kept the festivities rolling at a smooth pace and caused upon a number of the participants. Their responses in return with appropriate remarks.

Leading a bit of humor to the program, however, novelty, was presented by a group of men, headed by Mr. Meyer, Mr. Huston, George Burger and Eleanor Kingston. Pop singing was led by Eleanor McKibben.

Highlighting the program was the presentation of a plaque to Mr. Strouss, inscribed with "70th Anniversary and the personal signatures of each of the employees of New Castle, Strouss-Hirshberg Company." Accompanying this presentation were sincere wishes for continued success, appreciation for the faith and leadership shown at all times as spoken by Mr. Huston, who made the presentation in behalf of the local employees.

A variety program of talent followed, but this delightful celebration. Taking part were the following: J. S. Meyer, Mr. Huston, George Burger and Eleanor McKibben.

shoe dance by Eleanor McKibben. "Gay Ninety" number by Marie Hogue, Rosa Cook, Mae Walls and Helen Walden. "Southern Echoes" selection by Sylvester Major, vocal solo by Betty Aubel with Joan Cox, accompanist. "Yankee Doodle Dandy" song and dance by Janet Ritzschard. "Sailor and Song" number by Marie Ranson and Margie Shaw. Winding up triumphantly was the impersonation of "Mickey Mouse" superbly given by Jerald Meyer, with the crowd home smiling.

All joined in singing "Good Night Ladies" as the closing song.

Slayer Continues In Critical Shape

John Wencil, 73, Who Killed His Granddaughter And Wounded Daughter, In Hospital

OIL CITY, Pa., June 15.—(INS)—John Wencil, 73-year-old retired railroad worker who shot his daughter and granddaughter, they lay in bed in their Knox home today remained in "critical" condition from self-inflicted gunshot wounds. Oil City hospital officials disclosed.

The shooting occurred Wednesday morning, climaxing a quarrel in which Wencil objected to his daughter, Medora, 25, leaving the house, state police said. Wencil wounded both the mother and the child with revolver shots and then shot himself in the face when the police came to question him.

The child, seven-year-old Cecilia, died yesterday at Oil City hospital. The mother was in "fairly good" condition, hospital officials said, with wounds in the groin and under the left arm.

Dr. H. N. Wellman, Clarion County coroner, charging Wencil with "murdering" his granddaughter, said that a certificate of death from homicide due to a gunshot wound, was issued after the child's death. The coroner asserted that in the event Wencil died the case would be reported as one of murder and suicide.

"If Wencil does live, Dr. Wellman declared, a murder charge will be filed by the state police or by District Attorney W. P. Geary."

Newman Back From Overseas

Correspondent With Gen. Patton's Army Gives Some Observations On Return

NEW YORK, June 15 (INS)—Jumping from war-torn Europe into crowded, civilized America proved to be a bewildering experience today for Larry Newman, International News Service war correspondent, just back from 29 months overseas.

Newman arrived at the ATC base in Newark and there the fun started.

Prior to that, everything had been regulated by the Army and taken care of in advance. But to Newman it was a unique experience to be on his own again in his native land.

"I had to make a caboose to take me to Jersey City at that hour, and then go up to another who would be willing to take me across the state line into New York City," the well-known, bespectacled war correspondent said.

Hard Time To Get Room
"Then when I got to New York, the hotel told me that rooms were not held after 7 p. m. and I had a heck of a time getting a place to sleep."

Newman won wide acclaim for his fast-moving graphic dispatches on the final drive of Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army across France, southern Germany and Austria.

Over the past 20 months he saw action in Italy, Greece, France, Germany and Austria.

"When I landed at Presque Isle on the hop from Paris," Newman continued, "the biggest thrill was a glass of fresh milk. And then I had a half-dozen hard-boiled eggs, too. That was a rare treat."

After that I walked around in the Army exchange and saw all the food I almost cried. That's when you realize what a great country America is. There was no food in France, Yugoslavia, Italy—any of the places where I had been."

Praises General Patton
"Occasionally you saw a woman walking down the road with a load of brown bread and you knew that would be all she would have to eat all day. It certainly is swell to be back here."

Newman, former city editor of the Columbus, O. Dispatch, praised colorful General Patton as "the best city editor I ever worked for."

He knew news, and how to make it. Newman said. "He knew how to handle a blackout from the military standpoint" and release the news so that it would pack the most punch and color and get the best play in the papers back home."

Newman also spoke highly of Patton's public relations officer, Lieut. Col. James Quirk, former Philadelphia radio man. He said "we were really taken care of after Quirk took over and we found censorship to be very fair to all."

50-Year History Of St. John's Church Outlined

First Service Of St. John's Lutheran Church Held June 23, 1895.

At Y.M.C.A.

Prior to 1895 several attempts had been made to establish an English Lutheran church in New Castle but none met with success until April, 1895 when Rev. Nathaniel Schiffer came to New Castle in connection with his regular charge and held a service in the Y.M.C.A. hall on June 23 with 11 persons in attendance. Offering at that first service amounted to 85 cents.

From that beginning St. John's Lutheran church will celebrate its Golden Jubilee, 50th anniversary of its founding, during the coming week with a special program of Sunday services and special events during the week.

On October 13, 1895 a constitution was adopted when the congregation organized with 26 charter members. Three of these are still living. Mrs. Frank Schulz, Mrs. Charles Thompson, and James Seaman.

Admitted To Synod

The next year the congregation was admitted to the Pittsburgh Synod and Rev. Schiffer acted as pastor until May, 1896.

On June 17, 1896 Dr. J. H. Miller became pastor and served until May 13, 1906. He was recalled in October of the same year and Rev. Schiffer was called to the pastorate on January 6, 1907. During his pastorate the church made steady progress and the present church site was purchased from the Episcopalians on May 15, 1901.

Pastor H. J. Behrens succeeded Rev. Miller and served from September 15, 1918 to December 1, 1921. Rev. F. E. Stough began his work in the congregation on March 1, 1922. During his pastorate a property was purchased on North Jefferson street which was to be used for a new church site when the congregation could see its way clear to build. Rev. Stough's death August 31, 1941 after 19 years of service saddened the congregation.

Present Pastor

On February 15, 1942 Rev. A. E. Simon was installed as pastor and serves the congregation at the present time. The church now has a confirmed membership of 500.

Rev. Simon will deliver a Golden

Jubilee anniversary message at morning service Sunday, June 17, at 10:45. In the evening at 7:45, Rev. J. H. Miller, Ph.D., pastor-emeritus of the church, will deliver an anniversary message.

Week's Events

Church events scheduled through the week include: Church Auxiliary Night on Tuesday when a pageant portraying the history of all organizations in the church will be presented at the church; the annual picnic and a program at Cascade Park on Wednesday. Community Night on Thursday when ministers of other churches will give greetings. Hopcoming Night on Friday when Rev. Charles O. Thompson of New York N.Y., superintendent of the Inner Mission society, and a son of one of the church's living charter members, will be the speaker.

Jubilee Day

On Jubilee Day, June 24, Dr. H. R. Shepler, president of the Pittsburgh Synod, will preach the sermon at morning worship service at 10:45. In the evening, Rev. H. J. Behrens, former pastor of the church, will bring the message at a service when charter members will be honored.

BEAVER—James L. Plance, home on furloigh after the European war ended, was so exuberant, he "borrowed" a passenger bus and went for a ride. His sortie ended at 3:15 a. m. against a light pole.

Stimson Urges Peacetime Draft

Secretary of War Seeks Action On Military Training Program

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(INS.)—Secretary of War Stimson today urged Congress to enact an universal military training program now so that the United States can guarantee its own security and meet its responsibility for keeping world peace after the war.

Stimson made his plea in an exhaustive statement before the House post-war military policy committee, currently holding public hearings on military training. The policy of universal military training should be adopted.

The secretary of war submitted main arguments in support of his view, and at the same time struck out of "false prophets" who are advocating that the voluntary method of recruitment for the armed forces be re-established after peace.

Security Foundation
"I believe that a necessary foundation in which to build the security of the United States is a system of universal military training," Stimson declared.

He warned that "unless we are now willing to accept a permanent program of universal military training, we shall be combating with the future security of our national existence."

"No nation," Stimson said, "is in a position to assume responsibility for others unless it is capable of being responsible for itself." To advocate the Dumbarton plan and then to show ourselves of the power to carry it out would be even worse than our refusal to join the attempt at world organization in 1919.

Stimson said he was "astonished" at the "shopworn catchwords and objections" raised before the committee by the opponents of universal service.

False Prophets
"As one who has personally come very close to these experiences of two world wars," Stimson told the committee, "I beg you to listen to the false prophets of 'no preparation.' It is as history shows, we owe it to our young men to provide a system of military training in peacetime."

Continuing his attack on opponents of a peacetime draft, Stimson declared, "we have no right to gamble on the hope that our country for the third time will have even the little breathing space she has had in these two wars of hasty preparation. We have fully experimented with unpreparedness as a means of avoiding war."

Stimson pointed out the policy should be determined now so that army demobilization can proceed in an orderly manner with a view to planning what portion of the skilled personnel and facilities shall be retained to carry out any universal training program.

He declared that the voluntary recruitment system, and the hasty preparation for wars which has eventuated twice in a generation, has of necessity been a costly and wasteful process.

Every American has paid some part of this cost by disruption of normal living," he declared.

Only 'Trickle' Of New Cars Will Be Out This Year

Months Will Be Needed After Military Contracts Are Removed, Gamble Says

By ERWIN D. SIAS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Ted R. Gamble, the treasury's war bond chief, advised civilians today that "only a trickle" of new consumer goods—cars, refrigerators, and the like—will be on the market during the next few months.

Only about one billion dollars worth of these new items will be available to consumers this year, Gamble declared. This is only about one per cent of the total consumer expenditures expected in 1945.

Use It For Bonds

"As a result," Gamble said, "the people who are holding back in their purchases of war bonds because they expect to need their money soon for cars, refrigerators, etc., are ill-advised."

"Only a trickle of new consumer goods will be flowing into the market in the next few months."

Backing up his statement with government statistics, Gamble pointed out:

1. WPB has approved output of 200,000 automobiles in the last half of 1945 and it seems unlikely that quotas can be expanded above this level. These 200,000 cars are only "a drop in the bucket" considering that over five million cars have been scrapped since Pearl Harbor.

2. In the case of mechanical refrigerators, it has been proposed within WPB that about 500 thousand be produced in the last half of this year. This compares with sales of three and a half million in 1941—and even if approved most of the new refrigerators are expected to go to hospitals and military use.

Time For Reconversion

He then quoted WPB figures on the reconversion of 72 leading industries.

"If all military contracts were removed from the automobile industry, for example, it is estimated to take eight months to reach a point of production where the industry would 'break even' and 15 months for 'all-out' production at a capacity rate," he said.

"For sewing machines the figures are six and nine months respectively for vacuum cleaners three and four months, and electric ranges five and nine months."

"A careful study of these 72 industries make it obvious that a great many of them will be tied up for several months after the war orders cease before civilian output begins to reach the consumer market in any volume."

"There will be only two war loan drives this year and the treasury urges every individual to take stock of his available funds and put every possible dollar he can into E-bonds."

The Dutch by the Treaty of Breda (1667) gave New Netherlands (New York) to England in exchange for Surinam, also called Netherlands Guiana.

GEN. ARNOLD'S PROMISE

Japanese war lords cannot ignore today's promise from Gen. Henry H. Hap Arnold, U. S. chief of the world's greatest army air force, that American Superfortresses and other bombers will blast Japanese industries with two million tons of explosives in the coming year.

They know that this five-star general does not deal in idle threats—and that he knows whereof he speaks. They know that behind his words is the power of an air striking force that reached a peak of a million and a half men during the height of the war in Europe.

The present strength of America's air arm is a far cry from the puny force this aviation pioneer found when he reported to Sims Station, Fairfield, O., for duty back in 1911. There he found a barn-like structure housing several early Wright biplanes, with 40 h. p. motors.

The Wright brothers taught Hap to fly. Now he is the only survivor of the army's original five-man flying service.

One of the first to realize the potentialities of warplanes, he contributed much to the technical progress of the old army air corps and is recognized as the father of the modern army air force. His campaign for its development, he especially championed the long-range bomber.

His ability was recognized early. He served in numerous important posts during World War I, became commanding general of the air forces in 1942.

Biggest of many honors of rodeo arenas was his choice as 1940 cowboy champion of America.

President Seeks Speedy Action On Security Treaty

Some Resistance To Hasty Action Is Seen On Part Of Some Senators

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 15.—President Truman today was reported anxious for speedy ratification of the world security treaty being written at San Francisco before the forthcoming "Big Three" meeting.

Proposals to speed senate ratification by July 15, however, met with some resistance in the senate.

A time-table, discussed by Mr. Truman with legislative leaders, calls for submission of the treaty to the senate on June 25, to be followed by hearings before the senate foreign relations committee and debate on the floor.

Against Hurry

Sen. Shipstead (R) Minn., member of the foreign relations committee, indicated that he would fight for extensive hearings.

"I don't like this hurry," he declared. "We have no peace treaty and we don't know what sort of a peace we are expected to enforce. If we are going to have a police force, we must know what we are going to do."

Sen. Brooks (R) Ill. said that the San Francisco document will be one of the most important ever submitted to the senate.

"It should be thoroughly understood and ample time should be given to the people to examine it minutely before it is voted on by the senate," Brooks added.

Wants Speed

Sen. George (D) Ga., said he understood the president would like to see the treaty ratified before July 15 and before the "Big Three" meeting of Mr. Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin.

Sen. Hatch (D) N.M., a leading advocate of international collaboration, said he favored prompt action after the United Nations Conference ends at San Francisco. The senate should forego a July recess, he said, in order to consider the treaty.

Hatch, while supporting the security organization now being evolved at San Francisco, criticized it as being too weak.

"It is now apparent that the form of the agreement will be such that only the die-hards and bitter-enders will be able to oppose it," he said. "That is my chief objection to it."

HITLER IN EIRE

Dublin, June 15.—(INS)—Reports that Adolph Hitler had fled to Eire disguised as a woman were branded absurd today in authoritative Irish circles.

The London Daily Mail published a Cairo dispatch yesterday quoting "reliable sources" which reported Hitler arrived at Dublin airport disguised as a woman and was accompanied by a woman and three children.

Langford Murder Mystery Unsolved

New York Police Stumped In Probe Of Hotel Shooting, Widow Aiding Police

NEW YORK, June 15.—(INS)—Police admitted today that their investigation of the murder of Albert E. Langford at the fashionable Hotel Marguery June 4 had availed them nothing and the crime might never be solved.

However, they added, the investigation would continue.

Langford, a 63-year-old textile executive, was shot to death as he stood talking to two men in the doorway of his suite at the exclusive Park Avenue hotel. The men, according to the testimony of his widow, Mrs. Marion Grimes Langford, had come to talk to her about Rafael Diaz, a Metropolitan opera star who died 18 months ago.

outside of Langford was James Delamater, 70, the night elevator operator who police said was so near-sighted that he could give them only a meager description of the killers.

Mrs. Langford, who has offered a reward of $10,000 for the killers, has agreed to remain in the city to aid police in the event something new turns up, police reported.

Fake Red Ration Points Flood East Is OPA Warning

NEW YORK, June 15.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration revealed today that black market racketeers had flooded the east with 30,000,000 counterfeit red ration points.

ered enough fake red coupons to supply 600,000 persons with a month's ration of meat, butter, fat, oil and other red point foods.

Calman Gottesman, chief enforcement attorney for the New York area, said some of the worthless coupons have returned up in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Chicago.

Tank Superiority Cause Of Success Says Gen. Patton

Third Army Commander Discusses Break-Through At Stimson Press Conference

"GIVE EVERYTHING" IS PATTON FORMULA

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(INS)—Gen. George S. Patton, commander of the hard-driving Third Army during the climactic phase of the war against Germany, credits his army's successes to the superiority of tanks put out by American industry.

Patton, who was present at Secretary of War Stimson's news conference Thursday, spoke at length in his conception of armored warfare as it was carried out by the Third Army through Africa, Sicily and on the Western Front.

In language marked by the absence of his usual descriptive expletives, but studded with the famed Patton humor, the general also told of his army's crossing of the Rhine at Oppenheim.

Describing the part played by tank forces in a break-through operation, Patton asserted that the decision which generally faces a commanding officer is whether he is going to lose 10,000 men in one day or choose the alternative of losing 5,000 men daily for 20 days.

He drew the analogy of a prize fight. "When you get a man on his heels, and you keep him there you can lick him," Patton said. "That's the break-through."

"If you can throw everything you have at him, he keeps on going further and further and further until you bury him."

Patton termed American light and medium tanks "superior to anything put out by the enemy and pointed to the achievements of the Third Army to prove his statement.

2,300 Enemy Tanks
He disclosed that the Third Army alone accounted for 2,300 enemy tanks of which 890 were German Panthers.

"We lost just half that many," Patton said. Secretary Stimson at this point asked Patton whether "we" meant the entire American force or just the Third Army.

"That's what the Third Army got," Patton said. "I keep forgetting there were others."

As part of his talk, General Patton asked reporters to correct a statement attributed to him in a speech in Boston recently that "a lot of soldiers got killed because they were damn fools."

Patton said he was talking to about 20,000 people in Boston. In the front rows, he said, were about 300 wounded men of the Third Army and throughout the audience were scattered many unwounded men of the Third Army.

Others Also Heroes
"I was trying to bring out the fact that these men, whether dead or wounded, were heroic."

"Some men get killed for trivial reasons. I said foolish—that was a bad word."

Patton said that it takes a certain time to train a young soldier to avoid accidents in taking risks. "We advocate taking risks," he said, but cited many cases in which men with him have fought through North Africa, Sicily, Italy and through the war in Europe "without getting their skin broken."

"These men are heroic," he emphasized.
On his crossing of the Rhine, Patton said that the Rhine was a "big booze man" but as a matter of fact it was not as bad as other rivers that the American armies were called upon to cross.

NEW HEAT RECORD
PITTSBURGH, June 15.—(INS)—The Steel City today held a new Heat Day heat record.

The mercury soared to 94 on top of the Federal Building and 92 at the airport. The previous high for downtown was 93 recorded in 1876 and equaled in 1885. The day also marked the first time this year the temperature broke 90.

Eisenhower Says Russians Doubt Hitler Is Dead

PARIS, June 15.—(INS)—The Soviet high command has doubts that Adolf Hitler is dead. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told a news conference today at supreme headquarters.

The supreme commander said that he had himself accepted Hitler's death as a fact. But, he explained, when he met his Russian friends in Berlin they definitely said their high command had grave doubts that Hitler was dead.

Gen. Eisenhower repeated what he had said in London a few days ago, that if Hitler was not dead he must be undergoing agonizing punishment as a hunted man instead of a leader who once ruled millions.

Spring Reunion Will End Today

Most Outstanding Meeting
Of Valley Of New Castle
Consistory In Years
Concludes

REUNION PARTY
OCCURS TONIGHT

Conferring of degrees on the largest class in 25 years will be concluded this afternoon by the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R., winding up with a great reunion party tonight.

Dinner reservations indicate that around 1300 people will be present for the dinner, at which the members of the class and their ladies will be special guests.

This will be followed by an outstanding program of entertainment in the auditorium, including a stage program of high quality, followed by motion pictures and dancing in the ballroom. This is for members and their ladies only.

Attendance Limited

War-time restrictions have limited attendance at the reunion, but the number in the class indicates a successful period ahead, when many of these restrictions are lifted.

During the dinner for the class Thursday evening a time program of entertainment was presented, with David W. Rees, director of the Consistory choir, leading in the singing, accompanied by E. E. Brown, stetter at the piano. Special solo numbers were contributed by Thomas R. Barber of Shipman, Pa., and Sam McCleary of New Castle. There were also some special dance numbers.

Commander in Chief Ill. Wesley O. Rush has expressed his appreciation at the fine cooperation displayed by all who have helped to make the current reunion one of the most outstanding in recent years.

Weather Worst Obstacle Met In Raid On Osaka

GUAM, June 15.—(INS)—B-29 pilots who participated in the massive 520 plane fire raid on Osaka reported today that the main obstacle encountered was the heavy cloud cover over Japan's second largest city.

Fighter opposition was non-existent and flak was light, the returning Superfortress airmen said.

"We could just about see our hands in front of our faces," said First Lieut. Joseph Leo, 120 E. 319th Street, Bronx, N. Y., navigator of the "City of Indianapolis."

"Instead of flak and fighters, we had to fight the weather half way to the target and back," reported Sgt. Eugene J. O'Brien of Wabash, Ind.

Capt. Charles B. Miller, Richmond, Ga., said the Superfortress could not fold a formation of more than two planes because of the heavy weather.

First Lieut. Olin A. Thacker, Pear Valley, Tex., commented that "the weather was so bad the Jap air force must have been grounded."

Flight Officer Wayne MacCallen, Ottumwa, Iowa, observed that the "undercast" was too solid for flames or smoke to be visible.

CONTRACT LET

HARRISBURG, June 15.—(INS)—The State Highway department announced today the award of a $57,671.90 contract to the Freeland Construction company of Pittsburgh for widening 233 miles of U. S. Route 30 from its intersection with Route 198 in Greene township, Beaver county, to the West Virginia state line.

Pfc. Chester D. Lampus, of Enon Valley, has been stationed at St. Germain-en-Laye, just outside of Paris, for the past two months. The end of the war in Europe did not end Pfc. Cpl. George Mariacher, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Mariacher, Sr., of 323 North Jefferson street, has been assigned as a propeller specialist at John H. Payne Field, Cairo, in the North African Division of the Air Transport Command.

Sonarman Williams has been attached to this activity for 15 months, while Storekeeper Blair has been doing this work for 20 months.

Pfc. Edward M. McKee, 208 North Crawford avenue, joined other members of his unit at an Air Depot of the AAF Service Command in Italy in the cry "It's over, over here," with mixed feelings of joy and somber reflection when the news of the end of the war in Europe was flashed to the 89th Air Depot group.

Stunned forever upon the memory of Pfc. Carl Di Matteo, Jr., 110 Sankey street, are the series of horror and human privation and suffering which he witnessed when as a member of the famous 42nd Rainbow Division he participated in the liberation of the Nazi concentration camp at Dachau, just prior to the end of the war in Europe.

Babson Discusses Public Utility Stocks And Outlook

ROGER W. BABSON, President of the National Bureau of Economic Research.

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright, 1945, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.
BABSON PARK, Mass., June 15.—Rich people may not now be interested in public utility stocks, but they will be in a few years, says Roger W. Babson, president of the National Bureau of Economic Research.

He says that the public utility industry is the only one in the country that is not being "killed" by the government. He says that the public utility industry is the only one in the country that is not being "killed" by the government.

People Should Take Profits. For the last several years, Wall Street has been the scene of a "public utility" boom. The public utility industry has been the only one in the country that is not being "killed" by the government.

Most investors do not look at the price at which their bonds or stocks are selling, but only at the dividends which they get. They should, however, look at the price at which their bonds or stocks are selling, but only at the dividends which they get.

What About Inflation? If the electric light and power business had reached its maximum as have the railroads, I should fear inflation. As a rule, industries with fixed rates will suffer from the high prices which will accompany inflation.

Total receipts and balances of the city of New Castle for 1944 amounted to $1,063,260.10, according to the annual report of Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland. The report was made public today. Balances at the beginning of 1944 amounted to $83,244.53. Revenue receipts totaled $830,578.58 and non-revenue receipts $149,436.96. Non-governmental expenditures amounted to $165,361.49 or a total expenditure of $912,204.94 which left a balance of $151,055.16 at the end of 1944.

Joseph D. Alexander, president of the directors of public utility and public property, James C. Brown as director of streets and public improvement, D. O. Davies as director of public safety, Albert A. Hoyland as director of accounts and finance and Mayor John P. Haven as director of public affairs, according to the annual report.

The men who govern the city's golf course are Charles E. Allen, Ed M. Fisher, A. B. Jackson, Frank Summers, William Saul and William D. Williams. The city planning commission is composed of Charles McGill, Paul Butz, Frank L. Orth and Robert J. Tully, according to the city's annual report issued today.

One of the interesting pages in the finance report for 1944 issued by Director Albert A. Hoyland is that which shows the millage from 1923-1945, inclusive. In 1924 the tax levy was 13 mills. It is now 13 mills. Here is the millage for the years 1923-45, inclusive: 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45.

School Board To Meet Monday

To Discuss Method Of Tax Assessing With County Commissioners And Assessor

In order to transact some special business which has arisen a special meeting of the New Castle school board has been called for Monday night. One of the main reasons for the special meeting is to discuss with the county commissioners and the chief assessor, the new method of assessing for school purposes, which will now be done by the county assessors, instead of the city as in the past.

Under the new state law school districts will be based, somewhat upon assessments and the industrial angle seems to be that for assessments will get high subsidies. The assessments, however, are subject to review by the state council of education.

The school board believes that the present difference in rates and county assessments, about ten mills, would not be accepted by the state, but the board also feels there is a wide inequality in county assessments in various districts.

The members want to be assured that assessments will be made equitably. In short, if an 80 per cent yard stick is used that property in every district will be assessed upon 80 per cent of fair market value. At present New Castle assessments for city and school purposes are about that figure, but for county purposes are, the county they run from 35 to 75 per cent. It is to equalize the assessments that the board will ask the commissioners to meet with them on Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Industrial Users Of Sugar Facing Another Big Cut

OPA Announces New Cut In Sugar Allocations During Next Three Months

WASHINGTON, June 15. (INS)—The Office of Price Administration announced today that sugar allocations for most industrial users in the next three months will be cut 37 and one-half per cent below the average 1944 level.

The reduction reflects a decline in world sugar production which necessitated a 10,000-ton decrease in civilian allotments for the third quarter of 1945. OPA said it was designed to compensate for similar cuts for institutional and household users, including home canners.

Under today's action, commercial canners, bakeries, soft drink producers and other industrial users will receive an average of about 29 per cent less sugar in the July-August-September period than in the second quarter.

Supplies for ice cream makers will drop 30 per cent, and pharmaceuticals ten per cent.

Eliminate Fancy Grades

Although commercial canning supplies will decline 30 per cent on a per unit basis of fruit or vegetable packed, OPA acted to spread the burden, eliminating fancy grades of fruit which place a heavy drain on supply.

OPA said that canners will receive post-war allowances which will give them all the sugar they need with no restrictions placed on the number of units to be canned.

This will result in a saving of sugar without reducing the total output of the foods affected, OPA explained, since it will be more than offset by the use of less sugar in the products.

OPA also boosted allotments for commercial users in 17 counties and cities where population had increased. Allocations in 59 more counties, pointing out that most unindustrial users will receive substantially less sugar in the next three months, the OPA Administration, Chester Bowles said.

The allotments that will be available for commercial canning, making soft drinks and for other industrial uses have been cut sharply, but they are the largest amounts that can be used if the sugar supply in this country is to hold out.

Under present supply conditions, some of the less essential products that are normally taken for granted in peace time might well be considered wartime luxuries.

Awards Given At Convention

Lawrence County S. S. Delegates Hear Closing Address By Dr. C. E. Macartney

OVER 900 ATTEND EVENING SESSION

Emphasizing personal work as the greatest need of the church, Dr. Clarence E. Macartney, Pittsburgh minister, told the evening session of the Lawrence County Sabbath School convention Thursday evening that the apostle Andrew set an example which should be followed today.

"Andrew wrote no books and addressed no crowds, but he brought one person after another to Christ after he had been converted himself," Dr. Macartney pointed out. Main speaker for the 10th convention of the Sabbath School Association held Thursday in the First Presbyterian church, Dr. Macartney is pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh.

Attendance up to 900. Evening attendance at the convention had increased to over 900 with the women and young people still outnumbering the men. Throughout the day, the conference was marked by enthusiasm and interest in spite of the smaller-than-expected attendance during the morning and afternoon.

Over 260 of the delegates attended the "Victory Fellowship Banquet" served by the Ladies Aid Society of the host church in the church dining room. This was the second meal served by the society during the day.

Special Music

During the devotional service conducted by Rev. O. W. Hirst at the beginning of the session, a group of thirty young singers from Rhodes mission sang two numbers, both beautifully handled. Other musical offerings were a solo by Mrs. James Righ, and a duet by Mrs. W. J. Caldwell and Mrs. George E. Strickler. Mrs. Caldwell led the singing by the congregation, while Garth Remington, organist, and director of the convention, sang at the organ during the day and evening.

Sen. Robertson Calls For Investigation Of Charges In Connection With Army Contracts

WASHINGTON, June 15 (AP)—Demands for sweeping investigation of charges of graft and corruption in Army contracts were made on the floor of the Senate Thursday.

Calls for the investigation were accompanied by direct requests that President Truman take matters in hand and conduct a housecleaning in the War department if necessary.

Sen. Robertson (R-Wyo.) called for investigation of the Army highway in Canada, contracts for building additional locks for the Panama Canal and for the Latin-American highway being pushed through to the canal.

Says Evidence Shocking

He declared that there is evidence of shocking graft and corruption in many big Army construction contracts.

The demand was backed by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) a member of the War Investigating committee who declared that military spending should not be allowed to proceed without adequate investigation of graft and corruption.

Ferguson charged that Attorney General Biddle had failed to take action on complaints of graft submitted by the War Investigating committee.

The President of the United States, when a senator and chairman of our committee, said on this floor that when the committee has exposed corruption in private life, it is the duty of the government to investigate and to bring about reform.

Anxious To See Policy

Sen. Brewster (R-Mt.) who has served President Truman, made a similar demand and said that if any action is to be taken, it must be done by the Congress.

Robertson charged that the Army highway in Canada, contracts for building additional locks for the Panama Canal and for the Latin-American highway being pushed through to the canal.

WILL YOU DO ME A FAVOR—AND FACE THE FACTS?

In a desperate effort to belound the true issue and confuse the voters, reports are being circulated that I am TOO YOUNG for the office of sheriff. So I am placing before the public the true facts.

Pennsylvania and most states regard 21 years of age as the legal age to hold this office, thus it is WITHIN THE LAW for me, at 27 years of age, to seek it.

Today, the accent is on youth. Since military strategists state it takes young men and women to do our biggest job, why wouldn't it take a young man to do this job? Would you have faith in YOUR young American?

I rest my case with the voters, and I am willing to let the fathers and mothers of G. I. Joe and G. I. Jane decide the age question.

WITH YOUR PERMISSION, I can be your next sheriff.

Doolittle Back In Far East Is Tokyo Report

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for N. S.)

NEW YORK, June 15.—Radio Tokyo says that General Doolittle is back in the Far East with his Flying Fortress and Liberator of the Eighth Air Force, which was recently based on the British Isles, to the everlasting regret of Adolf Hitler and Nazi Germany.

General Doolittle led the first bombing attack against Tokyo on April 18, 1942—that is just 3 years and 38 days ago. During that time, American air power in the Pacific has been built up from relatively nothing to one of the greatest air striking forces in the world.

First Attack June 1, 1944
The first B-29 bombing assault in the Far East was made on June 1, 1944 against Bangkok.

In the year that followed, up to June 8, 1945, when the great Superfortresses struck Nagoya, Osaka and Kobe, the B-29s had made 167 raids against the empire of the Rising Sun with fleets varying from one Superfortress to four hundred and fifty.

Those 167 bombing assaults have notified the war lords of Japan, in indelible letters, of the complete destruction which is in store for their empire. Incidentally, more than 126 Superfortresses were lost during those raids.

The entire problem of air power in the Pacific is vastly different from the European war area.

British Isles Ideal
The British Isles were ideal as an advanced base of assault against Europe. They provided a many airfields of whatever size needed, together with vast gasoline and oil storage capacity.

England varied in distance from the place of assault—the continent of Europe—from 20 to 125 miles. In other words, the base was there, in the front yard of the place of attack. The overseas transportation route to supply that base was not more than 3,000 miles.

War conditions and particularly those applying to our air forces in the Pacific are almost the opposite. We now have the Philippine Islands as an advanced base and staging area. But the distance of air transportation to that base is twice as much as it was to England. That is the main reason why 6,000 miles are now the Philippine base is from 400 to 1,000 miles distant from the main place of attack.

As the Allied Forces advanced toward the empire of the Rising Sun, air reconnaissance patrols, in great force, had to be maintained over vast stretches of the Pacific practically 24 hours a day. That constant still remains and will continue to be necessary until the end of our war.

It must be remembered in connection with this constant patrolling of the air that the Allies in reaching their present forward positions, have passed over the most important Japanese ground military installations, such as the island of Truk. Now in other places in the Pacific, the back of our air bases and our air bases can never be forgotten even for one minute.

Dan Paget, better known in local circles as "Tommy" Leach, was recently cited for bravery in action by the Fifth Army Corps in Europe. He is son of Harry and Dan Paget. Dan Paget is a member of the 190th Field Artillery, 5th Division, of which they were a part, for their valor in action.

The citation recalls the heroic fighting on Omaha Beach, where the Leach family was serving in the Argentine-Fallage sector of the Third Army, and on the German front where they were first in the line, then in the second line, and finally in the third line, where they were the last to fall.

Both men expect to be discharged on points as soon as replacements can be sent to replace them. They were discharged from the Fifth Division, and are now in the Third Army, but he states they will probably wear their First Division patches.

Behind the Paget boys, there are many other New Castle men who served with the Fifth Army Corps.

World War One Veteran Has Warrant Signed By Dwight D. Eisenhower In Last War

Arthur H. Lewis of 412 Reist street has a prized document in the shape of a warrant appointing him sergeant in the 306 Tank Company, in World War One, which bears the signature of Major D. D. Eisenhower.

General Eisenhower, famous as leader of the Allied Forces which defeated Germany, organized the tank units which trained at Camp Colt, Gettysburg, Pa. Sergeant Lewis volunteered for tank corps service, and after training went overseas. While there, his appointment as sergeant came through, and the warrant for his appointment was issued and signed by General Eisenhower, then a major, who was still stationed at Camp Colt. He did not go overseas with the unit.

Joint Meeting Of Executive Committee And Membership Committee Called For Tonight

Dr. G. W. Garnett, president of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People, announces that there will be a joint meeting of the executive committee and the membership committee on Friday evening, June 15, at 8:30 o'clock, in the Elm Street Y.W.C.A.

At this time all captains of the annual gathering of members will make their semi-monthly reports, and the executive board, of which Charles Brandon is chairman, will take up business matters.

"The Star-Spangled Banner" was designated as the United States national anthem by an act of Congress, approved by President Hoover in 1931.
